

Reach Web page gets a new look, features

The Hanford Reach Web site has a new look with new links. For those of you who read or refer to the Reach online at <http://www.hanford.gov/reach/> you will see a photo of the White Bluffs along the north shore of the Hanford Reach of the Columbia River.

Look for the publication date — the date of the current issue — below the photo. The headlines for that issue are listed, and when you click on a headline, the article appears on your screen. The archives from 2001 and 2002 are available online also. When you click on a publication date, the entire issue is retrieved, and if you click on a headline, only that article appears.

If you need to refer to past issues before 2001, you can read them in the bound books available at the Department of Energy Reading Room in the Consolidated Information Center on the Washington State University Tri-Cities campus, or call the Hanford Reach office at 376-4639.

Links to the Hanford Home page, Tri-City Herald Hanford news, Hanford Reach National Monument, Hanford Videos page, Hanford Tours, History of Hanford and weather are available on the Hanford Reach Web page. ♦
